Dear [redacted]

Thank you for your letter of 18 December requesting that we send you our Daily Report of Foreign Radio Broadcasts to be used in the work of the Department of International Affairs at the John Foster Dulles Library and Research Center.

I have delayed answering immediately in order to be able to discuss this request with the director of the Documents Expediting Project of the Library of Congress, which normally handles distribution of our publication to libraries and universities throughout the country. Since your library apparently would not qualify for membership in this program we were unable to arrange for this means of dissemination.

In view of the scope of your work, however, we have been able to secure permission to send the book to your library directly. We have therefore advised our printing plant to prepare mailing labels, and you should begin receiving the first copies in a few days.

Since our printing capacity is limited, we would appreciate hearing from you immediately in the future if you decide that you no longer require an individual copy of the publication for the Dulles Library and can instead use the copy made available for the general public at the New York Public Library, 42d Street and Fifth Avenue.

Sincerely yours,
